Epsilon is a contemporary vocal ensemble consisting of five members with extensive backgrounds in jazz, classical, and choral music. Their love for singing and their ability to create a soundscape with their voices have inspired audiences both young and old. The group's repertoire ranges from the upbeat stylings of pop music to the complex nuances of jazz, drawing influence from the Beatles, Real Group, Take 6, and others. This excellent ensemble was selected as one of the finalists in David Foster's "Star Search 2008".

- Members: Caleb Nelson, Nathan Willis, Brett Ludwig, Kyle Carter, Andrew Malcolm
